Bragooning Congress.

A sort of desperation had seized upon the par-ticular friends of the Administration on discovering an indisposition in Congress to surrender all the powers of the government into the hands of the Executive. No stronger particular evi-dence in support of this general observation need be quoted than the virulence of the gov-ernment paper, just now, in its Editorial department, but still more in the communicated arti-

What can ore justly offensive to the independence and freedom of sprit of the Legislative bodies, for example, than the subjoined passages in the Union of Tuesday night, forming part of an ar-ticle signed "Vindicator," conspicuously referred to in the same paper under the Editorial and! ## PROSPECTUS OF THE YPSILANTI SENTINEL. VOLUME FOUR.

Ix coming before the public with the fourth Vol. of the "Sentinel" we find a favorable opportunity of sketching a slight programme of our intentions, which we shall endeavor to fill during the year. We have been flattered more during the year just past with the satisfaction expressed by our patrons than by any considerable increase of our subscription list. So great are the obstacles which a country gress has to contend with that it must necessarily win its way slowly into public favor. In this respect we trust we have made some advance. With the greater experience we now have of the peculiar tastes of our reading community, we hope to advance still farther. The "Sentinel" will continue to advocate the measures of the Whig party so far as these measures are now developed; nor do we apprehend the adoption of any doctrine by that party which our private judgment shall force us to oppose:--yet in the events of the future we hold sacred the rights of ranted in going on to erect a durable superstructure.
